Hi, I'm Meherzad Panthaky!

'As I always wanted to pursue a career which enables me to travel while working for a multinational company a post graduate qualification of international standard was my prefixed goal. IGTC became that course which did not only give me an education of the level I needed but as part of its curriculum, I had the benefit of working in a German firm as an intern. When I was selected in the interview process by TÜV Rheinland all my expectations and dreams came true. Moving to Bangalore made me live alone for the very first time, away from the safe haven of home. Although I did not realize it at first, this further prepared me for my intended future. The course itself is so different from what we are used to in India. A high level of stress is laid on research which pushes one to give his or her best. Moreover, it is backed by a completely different level of teachers, who are more friends than figures of authority. I consider myself lucky to be chosen for this course.'
