Hi my name is Vishakha Khona, PGPBA Batch 2015-2017!

“My journey at IGTC has been an amazing one. From being a shy and introvert to transforming into an outspoken and outgoing person I've come a long way. IGTC has given me the exposure to think creatively and out of the box. The method of teaching here is different from the conventional one. And this is what makes learning more interesting. Here we learn things from our faculties who provide us with their first-hand experiences and real life incidents. Learning languages has always been my passion and learning German has been an add-on to my career. Spending sleepless nights for assignments and projects, I now realize it is worth it. Being a fresher, my internship experience at Carl Zeiss India has been an eye opener. During my internship, I was given an opportunity to explore my boundaries in the field of learning and development. Living away from family has been a different experience altogether. Cheers IGTC.”
