Deeksha Kaushik, Sooraj Nair and Supriya Rao have become very close friends during their time at IGTC Bangalore (from left to right)

"IGTC Bangalore has been a true homecoming. We entered the place, apprehensive and full of our own thoughts. A new course, a new city, a new environment and an entirely new set of people! We were all very different people, who were gradually united by one reason alone- all of us liked having fun, a little too much of it sometimes.

When we first met, we had our fair share of awkward silences and barely existent conversations, too. As time passed, we bonded over group activities and team presentations. We not only enjoyed them, but the exhilaration that we experienced when we made a successful presentation was what brought us closer. We figured that we liked achieving similar things.

During our internship we learned what being there for each other meant. Whether it was staying up till 2 am waiting for someone to return from work, or even going all the way, just to pick them up so they wouldn't have to travel alone, all these made a definite impact on our friendship.

8 months now and we have done a lot of things on our bucket lists- from going on a vacation together to even attending each other's convocations! Now, we are like a family- a family so close that our parents consider each other as their own extended wing.

All we'd like to say is- a huge thank you to IGTC, for being a home away from home, and bringing us so much experience and knowledge- oh, and great friends too! "
